

CONFIDENTIAL

TACTICAL PROBLEMS OF ANTI-JAPANESE GUERRILLA WARFARE

Compiled by

Anti-Japanese Guerrilla Warfare Research Association

Published by

Chieh-fang She (Liberation Publishing Company)

September 1938

CONFIDENTIAL

319

CONFIDENTIAL

TACTICAL PROBLEMS OF ANTI-JAPANESE GUERRILLA WARFARE

Table of Contents

- I. Basic Requirements of Guerrilla Tactics
- II. Reconnaissance and Investigation
 - A. Spy Activities and the Establishment of Effective Spy Network
 - B. Organization of Reconnaissance Squad (or Platoon) of a Guerrilla Unit
 - C. Objectives of Reconnaissance and Investigation
 - D. Methods of Carrying Out Reconnaissance
- III. Attacks (assault, ambushing, and hit-and-run tactics)
 - A. Against Stationary Enemy
 - B. Against Enemy on the March
- IV. Destruction of Enemy Rear Personnel and Communication Facilities
 - A. General Principles Concerning Demolition Activities - Preparations to be Made Before Carrying Out Demolition Mission and the Care to Be Taken During the Mission
 - B. Destruction of Telephone Wires and Posts
 - C. Destruction of Bridges
 - D. Destruction of Roads
 - E. Destruction of Airplanes and Airfields
 - F. Destruction of Tanks, Vehicles, Locomotives, etc.
 - G. Destruction of Locomotive Stations, Railroad Stations, Warehouses, etc., and the Personnel Employed At these Sites
 - H. Remarks
- V. Telecommunications Liaison
- VI. March and Bivouac
 - A. March

CONFIDENTIAL

320

CONFIDENTIAL

B. Bivouac (or Encampment)

VII. Supply and Sanitation

VIII. Local Security

A. Local Security Action and Deployment of Personnel

B. Establishment of Sentry Posts and Their Responsibilities

C. Organization and Responsibilities of Patrol Units

D. Establishment of Secret Patrol and Their Responsibilities

IX. Strong Defense and Scorch-Earth Policy

A. Meaning of Strong Defense and Scorch-Earth Policy

B. Purposes of Strong Defense and Scorch-Earth Policy

C. When to Institute Strong Defense and Scorch-Earth Policy

X. Concealment for Rest

A. How to Use Local Terrain for Rest and Breaks

B. Secrets of Effective Concealment

C. How to Employ Patriotic Citizens to Help Carry Out Mission

D. How to Detect Concealed Enemy

CONFIDENTIAL

321